LONDON-CONANT.

A wedding which brought together a large number of friends from New Haven and surrounding towns occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Conant Tuesday, when their daughter, Alice Mildred, was married to Carroll Hoyt Landon, also of New Haven. The house was tastily decorated and the arrangements for the bridal procession were especially pleasing. The bride was attended by Miss Meredith Snyder, a class-mate at the Emerson School of Oratory, as maid of honor, and by Miss Hazel Partch of New Haven and Miss Alice Wilson of the Plattsburg Normal school as bridesmaids. Little Miss Grace Wheeler strewn flowers before the bride and Master Ned Wheeler acted as ring-bearer. Mr. Guy C. Hendry was best man. The ceremony was performed by President John M. Thomas, the double-ring service being used. The music during the ceremony was furnished by Miss Partch and also by Mrs. Shackett and Master Harold Brown. There were a large number of presents. After a trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Landon will make their home in New Haven.

CONFIRMATION AND MISSION AT CHURCH OF THE ASSUMPTION.

The Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered at St. Mary's church next Sunday after the High Mass. A large class over one hundred in number is now in preparation for confirmation which will be administered by the Right Reverend Joseph J. Rice, D. D., Bishop of Burlington. The morning and evening services of the mission are being largely attended and its solemn closing will take place Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

The N. S. Foot company has sold to Prof. K. R. B. Flint and Leon C. Smith of Northfield several cottage lots at the north end of Lake Dunmore.

PROF. MCFARLAND AT CAMP.

Interesting Story of Plattsburgh Military Instruction Camp.

Prof. Raymond McFarland has been at the military instruction camp for business and professional men at Plattsburgh for several weeks past, in company with Egbert C. Hadley, formerly of Middlebury. A letter to a friend recounts some of his interesting experiences.

"We broke camp at Plattsburgh at 7:45 this morning and are now encamped near Peru, N. Y. Our destination is Silver Lake. It is a glorious day and everything is going finely, even the repulse of the enemy's cavalry force that harassed the rear of our column and captured a few prisoners.

"Hadley and I are in the same squad of Company L. We both qualified as Sharpshooters in the rifle record but his actual score was one point ahead of mine, 200 to 199 out of a possible 250.

"The work of the afternoons has been elective in character, I took engineering while Hadley aspired to signal service. This special work has been most interesting and instructive. I have been making military field sketches, contours, building timber bridges and constructing trenches and wire entanglements. The latter are modeled on the British trenches and defenses in Flanders.

"One night we had an exhibition of the rapid fire guns shooting about 500 shots per minute; after watching the manner of working the guns we were put into the butts and the showers of bullets whizzed over our heads a bare three feet and struck with tremendous frequency in the sand bank fifteen feet ahead of us. When it comes to charging out of trenches against rapid fire guns, I'm now pretty sure that I prefer to 'let George do it.'

"We had a night battle in the trenches Monday and I was fortunate to be in the firing line. About 1500 of the 'enemy' (regular troops) attacked our position. It was weird and very realistic. When the last rush came and the 'enemy' rushed forward with fixed bayonets we laid them low with true Jesse James' skill.

"This is a wonderful opportunity that I am having and I appreciate it keenly. Our day begins at 5:30 a. m. By 8:30 we usually are hiking off for a combat skirmish somewhere. They make us hustle up here, no time hardly to think. I am anticipating meeting my classes and making them rustle some when this cruel war is over."

CORNWALL'S REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS.

At the dedication of the "Samson Memorial" in November the Mary Baker Allen chapter, of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will place therein, and dedicate a bronze tablet to the memory of the Revolutionary soldiers of Cornwall, Vermont, a list of whom is given below. If there are any descendants of these men, other than those who have already contributed, who wish to assist in honoring their brave ancestors, whose courage and fortitude gave us this nation with "Liberty and justice to all," they may communicate with Mrs. W. H. Bingham, chairman of committee.

Health Depends on Sound Digestion

"The process of digestion and the elimination of waste matter from the body are so closely related that when a disorder of any of the organs occurs all the others are affected. Therefore any remedy, to cure indigestion or dyspepsia, must meet these various complications."

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets
